Katle Peake is the most important witness for the prosecution, and it is believed her testimony, with other corroborative evidence, will be sufficient to convict Warner.

She said she was present at the time her sister was killed by Warner, and that jealousy was the motive for the murder, he accusing Lizzte of being untrue to him and receiving the attentions of other men.

The spectators were exceedingly interested and freely discussed the killing of Lizzte leads and the shooting several years ago of Katle Anderson by her cousin, Barclay Peake.
